

Falsafa ([n.] “Philosophy” in Urdu) is a bi-annual undergraduate journal of philosophy edited by The Philosophy Club at UC Irvine. We are committed to implementing an equitable and objective evaluation process, presenting diverse viewpoints and perspectives, and fostering a community of critical and constructive dialogue. We are currently accepting submissions for essays, articles, or short notes (including book reviews)!

Contributing is a great opportunity for students of all universities, majors, and backgrounds to engage in formal philosophical discourse, prepare for graduate-level work in philosophy, or simply pursue their own academic interests. Submitting to Falsafa will be an exciting opportunity, allowing students to celebrate their hard work, dedication, and passion for philosophy.

A Symposium will be held during the Winter Quarter. Contributing authors will be invited to speak on their paper, and take part in this exciting new event that celebrates our authors who make Falsafa possible.

Submission guidelines can be found here. The submission deadline is Thursday, September 22nd, 2022. If you are interested in familiarizing yourself with our previous publications, you can find our four published issues here.
