

IWM Lectures in Human Sciences 2023

Three lectures by

Seyla Benhabib

on

The Changing Fortunes of Cosmopolitanism: Demos, Cosmos, and Globus

A defense of cosmopolitanism from below by engaging with postcolonial critiques of Kantian thought

Part I: Kantian Cosmopolitanism and its Critics

Thursday, 5. October 2023, 6:30 p.m.

Großer Festsaal der Universität Wien, Universitätsring 1 (Hauptgebäude)

Part II: From the Hermeneutics of Suspicion to Reconstructing Cosmopolitan Law

Wednesday, 11 October 2023, 6:30 p.m.

Hörsaal 14, Oskar-Morgenstern-Platz 1 (Entrance via Berggasse)

Part III: The Globe as World, Earth, and Planet

Thursday, 19 October 2023, 6:30 p.m.

Hörsaal 14, Oskar-Morgenstern-Platz 1 (Entrance via Berggasse)

Please register at www.iwm.at

An IWM lecture series in cooperation with the Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology, the Department of Philosophy, the Department of Political Science, and the Department of Sociology at the University of Vienna.