

CRITIQUE

Call for undergraduate philosophy papers

TYPES OF ARTICLE SOLICITED NOW

---

Original Articles

Articles constitute an original contribution to the study of philosophy: an argument is advanced or new evidence brought to bear; articles should not be purely expository. They should be under 10,000 words.

Book Reviews

Reviews should be of philosophy books published within the last four years by a reputable press. They should be less than 3,000 words. Reviews may choose to criticize a book, but may be descriptive, situating the book within a wider academic context.

SUBMISSIONS

Critique is an English-language peer-reviewed open access academic journal published biannually in winter and summer by the University of Durham. It publishes original articles, discussion pieces and authoritative book reviews in any area of philosophy, written by undergraduates worldwide.
